KUNIYOSHI To Judge Art Show

Yasuo Kuniyoshi, internationally famous artist, has been selected as a member of the jury for the Art Show at the California State Fair, in Sacramento, September 1 through 11, according to Ned Green, secretary-manager of the fair.

Because of his world-wide renown in the field of art, fair officials are elated with the acceptance of Kuniyoshi, who is conducting a six-weeks course at Mills College in Oakland. He will replace Donald Bear, Santa Barbara artist, who is unable to serve on the jury.

Kuniyoshi was born in Yokohama, in 1893. Since coming to the United States he has become recognized as one of the nation's outstanding modern artists. He is represented in the Museum of Modern Art, Metropolitan Museum, and Whitney Museum, all of New York City, and the Art Institute of Chicago. In 1939, he won first prize in the United States Section of the Golden Gate International Exposition in San Francisco.

Regularly employed as an instructor of the Art Students League of New York City, Kuniyoshi will remain in California until the conclusion of the special session at the East Bay college.

Other members of the jury are: Edward Biberman, Hollywood; Reginald Roland, San Diego; Louis Siegfried, Oakland; and Abel G. Warshawsky, Monterey.

Entries for the Art Show closed July 18. Indications are that all previous records have been broken for the number of exhibitors competing for cash awards.

POTTERY CLASSES AT RED BARN

Glenn Minshall has taken over Varda's Red Barn in New Monterey where he will instruct a limited number of students in the art of pottery making. Students will be able to work under his guidance by appointment, and Martha O'Shea will hold the barn open for work-sans instruction - on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Last Chord Has Sounded

The last majestic chord has sounded, the last pure note of the anthem has been sung. The beloved Maestro bows and bows, he smiles at his soloists, his orchestra and his choristers as they stand in acknowledgement of the salvos of applause from a grateful audience. And many hearts filled to overflowing are just a little saddened. Carmel's Twelfth Bach Festival comes to a close as friends linked by their love of great and sacred music leave the auditorium.

Back stage, violins, flutes, cellos - all the delicately contrived instruments with their burden of beauty - are carefully, lovingly placed in their cases. The choristers doff their surplices - there are goodbyes in the air, there are handclaps and murmurs of 'Til next year' and all the while, two well beloved ladies stand by - not in idleness, but with that amazing calm that is part of their fame, smoothing every difficulty, anticipating every detail of the closing moments of a great week of great music - Carmel's Twelfth Bach Festival comes to a close, and not only Carmel, but hundreds of lovers of great music once again thank Dene Denny and Hazel Watrous for their unique imagination, their magnificent powers of organization and their long unceasing hours, days and weeks and years of work - for their creation - the Festival.

Of Gastone Usigli, conductor, for nine consecutive years, many columns of praise have been written. To say that he surpassed himself this year is almost a cliché - but he did. Each program was a triumph, in performance, and in balance. In listening to the comments of the musically informed audience each evening, it seemed to me that more than anything else the emphasis of praise was upon the superbly delicate contrasts. Throughout each evening, listeners were transported through all the emotions of awe and grandeur, gaiety and rapture...Mr. Usigli did indeed surpass himself.

Unforgettable indeed - Monday night's Overture in C Major...William Harry's exquisite performance of the Vivaldi Concerto for Cello and Orchestra in D Major...the Brandenburg Concerto No. III for Strings...Ralph Linsley's utter ease and breathtaking lightness of touch in his performance of the Concerto in F Minor. It was Ralph Isbell's magnificent voice that sent us home with singing hearts that first evening. And all through the week, the singing hearts of those who listened grew fuller - until the great and glorious climax of the B Minor Mass on Sunday - when soloists, orchestra and choristers in a great climactic performance brought us all to our feet in exultation...

There were many firsts this year, artists, music and innovations new to the Festival programs. One of the greatest, we feel, was the presentation of the Concertos for one, two, three and four pianos. It was indeed a privilege to hear in one week, the individual and merged brilliance of the dynamic Maxim Schapiro, brilliant Ralph Linsley, charming and youthful Randolph Hokanson and Charles Fulkerson of flawless precision.

An unforgettable privilege for us all was silvery haired, gentle Moris Violin's first American performance of Phillip Emanuel Bach's unpublished manuscript, the Concerto in A Minor. It was this renowned Viennese pianist's first Carmel appearance. We can only hope that Denny-Watrous will bring him to us again.

Ludwig Altman's two organ recitals were superb. His execution of the truly magnificent music on the little organ of All Saints Church was nothing short of marvelous...

It is impossible, in this limited commentary to pay just tribute to all the great soloists, all the great music of the week. We can only say thank you, thank you. But what Carmel scribe could fail to give a special bow to our little Nanette Levi, a violinist well on her way to fame, our Concert Mistress...to Phyllis Moffett whose flute-like voice is pure ecstasy...Russell Horton, whom we call our own.

Floyd Stancliff...Julia Haug...Lilia Storch...their pure mastery of the wind instruments recalled those exquisite lines of Orpheus - 'who when he played his lute did make the trees on the mountain tops bow down...'

And once again our tribute and love to Noel Sullivan. As the velvet tones of his voice filled the auditorium on Tuesday evening our eyes glistened with tears of appreciation of the artist, and affection for a beautiful character, a patron of the arts, friend of the artists - his name is synonymous with Carmel's Bach Festival.

Of the many parties that graced the Festival week, we say - Gala was the Denny-Watrous affair, when, crowding the spacious studio, musicians entertained musicians...Lavish and fun the luncheon at Noel Sullivan's beautiful Hollow Hills. The lively chatter of more than 200 guests, the fun in the Cerulean blue pool, the flowers, the meadows, the gentle deer...and inside the house the magnificence that only a great connoisseur of old world art treasures could achieve...it was all a memory to be long held to one's heart.

The 12th Festival in Carmel has come to a close...the music in our hearts will live, always.

Discerning Discs

by Henry Dunakin

Kirsten Flagstad, Wagnerian soprano without equal, has recently recorded Isolde's "Narrative and Curse" from Tristan und Isolde (HMV). Interpretive power and quality of voice have each taken giant strides ahead since her pre-war recordings. Elizabeth Hoengen, contralto, completes the vocal team and Issay Dobrowen carries the Philharmonia Orchestra in a brilliant support. English engineering standards seem to be forever outdoing themselves but the full frequency of these two discs is insurpassable.

"JEUX"

Debussy's last orchestral work of importance is now available on domestics (Vict.). Lush, lavish, bejewelled - these are mild and inadequate adjectives for this music's rhythm and color. Victor de Sabata leads the Augsteo Orchestra through the callisthenic paces in top-flight order and the HMV studios have turned out the best job of engineering to come from Italy, to date!

"ROSWAENGE"

The London Company set up studios in Zurich, Switzerland, and imported many artists from Vienna for an elaborate recording session. Outstanding in this group was Helge Roswaenge, Danish tenor of heroic quality. Album LA 79 includes four excerpts for solo tenor from operettas by the late Franz Lehar. The third disc has two duets - one from Lehar, the other from J. Strauss - on which we find a new soprano of the bravura type, Lisa Della Casa. Victor Reinshagen conducts the Zurich Tonhalle Orchestra in a lucid but restrained accompaniment. Here is music that cannot displease any taste and performed to highest satisfaction.

EARLY MOZART

It surely is a feast for the record reviewer! Another galaxy of artists, ideally combined, is the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra under the baton of Sir Thomas Beecham, featuring Rene Le Roy, flute, and Lily Laskine, harp, in Mozart's "Concerto in C Major,

k. 299" (Vict.). Of the three concerti Mozart composed for the flute, an instrument for which he held an antipathy, the other two must take a backseat for this work, composed when he was only 22. The intricate delicacies contained herein are both subtle and fluid. Strong lyricism and well-constructed harmonies abound throughout, and the recording, from beginning to end, remains unshaken by the severest of criticism!

Peninsulites Asked To Donate Furniture For Washoe Mansion

The mansion of Eilley Orrum and Sandy Bowers, which is located between Reno and Carson City, Nevada, and was the first million dollar mansion constructed West of the Mississippi, needs a complete re-furnishing job. Mrs. J. Benjamin Parker, of Reno, visiting here for the Dach Festival, said much of the original furniture is now owned by Monterey Peninsula families, who are asked by Washoe County people to donate the furniture so that the mansion may be opened as a place of public interest.

The mansion has a history that links it to the discovery of the Comstock Lode near Virginia City. When Sandy Bowers and Eilley Orrum struck it rich up in the Washoe country, they built a 28 room home with two warm water swimming pools. It was completed in 1863.

Mrs. Parker, who is visiting Mrs. Frank Lee Gift, of Carmel, is chairman of the Bowers Mansion Refurnishing Committee, a group made up of 26 prominent women from Reno, Carson City, Sparks and Fallon, Nevada.

She reports that the original furniture of the Bowers Mansion was of black walnut with a design of grapes and corn. Washoe County commissioners will pay freight charges for anyone desirous of donating this furniture - or any furniture that is of the same period. Each piece is to be tagged with a copper plate that tells who donated it.

Peninsulites who wish to send furniture to the mansion may do so by contacting Mrs. Parker, who lives at 447 Nevada Street, Reno.

$2 Billion Initially For Naval School

Captain R.J. Casey, USN, commanding officer of the US Naval School, General Line, Monterey, this week commented on plans for further expansion of the school at a special press conference following the authorization of an eleven million dollar expenditure program for the school by the House Armed Services Committee in Washington, D.C.

Captain Casey emphasized that the authorization of the eleven million dollar sum does not include an actual appropriation of the money. This will probably come later.

Initial increment of the sum, when appropriated, will probably be two million dollars, which will be used for preliminary architectural and engineering work in connection with the eventual construction of a library, engineering buildings and laboratories. He estimates that it will take approximately a year before actual construction of these facilities begins. In the interim, the necessary plans will be drawn in Washington and bids for the work will subsequently be let by the Twelfth Naval District Public Works Office.

Congressional authorization of the program represents further endorsement of the Navy's Holloway Plan for the post-war education of Naval officers. Under the Holloway proposal, the Del Monte Hotel was purchased for a training school for former wartime reserve and temporary officers, and for the eventual relocation of all the Navy's postgraduate functions.

Commenting on Chairman of the Armed Services Committee Vinson's suggestion to re-name the General Line School for the late Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal, in the event that the school, according to the Vinson proposal, is turned into a postgraduate school for the three services, Capt. Casey said he thought it would be "very appropriate."

Sanitary Board Approves Sewers

"There shall be sewers along Scenic and on the Point," was the decision of the Carmel Sanitary Board Monday night, and installation will be made at the 50 percent reduced figure of $78,000.

Notwithstanding the fact that some residents (such as Robinson Jeffers) did not want sewers at all, and others (such as Ted Kuster and Dr. Remsen Bird) said they were being assessed too much, the Sanitary Board overruled the protests. There was a clear majority of taxpayers who wanted the sewers.

Protestants were informed that they had other recourse to register their protests through the courts.

Over 300 Belong To Women's Club

More than 300 members have been admitted to the Carmel Woman's Club and the lists will close at 400, it was made known during a meeting of the group's Board of Trustees last week. Mrs. Vernon Speck, membership chairman, reported on applications for membership and several names were voted upon.

Mrs. Annie Vaughn, president of the club, presided during the meeting, at which time the minutes were read by Secretary Mrs. Saxton Pope, and a treasurer's report was submitted by Miss Amy Comings. Mrs. Barbara Murphy, first vice president, president, reported on the program for next year, and Mrs. Nora Law gave a publicity report.

Plans are underway for the club's exhibit in the Horticulture Building at the Monterey County Fair, it was announced by Helen Park Cranston, garden chairman. Miss Vaughn said the Village Film Society will present a series of films in the clubhouse during August "on a benefit basis." Club members will act as ushers and ticket takers.

The next meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held Aug. 18 at 1 p.m. in the clubhouse.

Business Personalities

MARK RAGGETT

Mark Raggett, 34 years old, is one of Carmel's youngest merchants. He holds, and has held, offices of high degree in various clubs and associations around town.

Co-owner of Putnam & Raggett's, Ocean Avenue dry goods store, Mark is president of the Carmel Businessmen's Association, a past president of the Carmel Lions Club and a member of the executive committee for the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest.

He and his wife, Hope, met in high school at San Jose. She taught at the Sunset School from 1936 to 1938, during which year they were married. They have two children, both boys: Michael, 8, and John, 5. What with making trips to Carmel and the fact that Hope lived here for two years, the Raggetts decided they would move here permanently.

When retailers and wholesalers get together, the grass always looks greener on the other side of the fence. Mark was in the wholesale drygoods business before he got in the retail end of it. He went into business on the retail side when he opened his store in Carmel three and one-half years ago.

Born in Berkeley, Mark has lived most of his life in and around the San Francisco bay area, as has his wife. That they intend to be around Carmel for some time may be attested by the new home they just finished building in the Mission tract.

Does Mark have hobbies? "I'm a poor golfer," he says, "but right now I'm trying to put in a garden at the new house."

He didn't say whether he considered installing a garden a hobby or just plain work.

The above photograph shows one of several deep ruts in the streets around the Pine Inn. Several automobiles have become stuck in the one shown above, which sides the stone wall next to the hotel on Monte Verde. The Carmel Police Department had to help one Carmel resident dislodge her automobile last week. This rut appears to be filling up from water seepage from the Pine Inn. At the rear of the hotel on Sixth Avenue, the ruts are probably filled with water from garden watering. No matter how they are caused, small canyons in these and other business district streets are considered disgraceful by residents and visitors alike.

Teeing - Off AGAIN!

An interesting situation is developing at the entrance to Carmel Valley. Jack Morris is going ahead with the installation of his golf driving range; already the tees are in and three of the five target greens are built. Mr. Morris estimates it will be finished in October or November.

At the same time the five Gateway Park Committee members are going ahead with their plans for acquiring property at the intersection of Carmel Valley Road and Route 1. They wish to do away with C-1 zoning at that intersection and are working on Supervisor Andy Jacobson's suggestion that some kind of a parkway be erected.

But while they wish to do away with C-1 zoning at the valley's entrance, Mr. Morris wants enough C-1 space at his driving range to install a small restaurant there. He has an unlimited use permit of that part of the Hatton estates where his driving range is located, but wants also a small store and restaurant of the type which usually accompanies such an enterprise.

And there is the rub. The State Highway Division came into the picture a while back. They wish to widen Route 1 where it makes its very sharp, blind curve at the intersection of the Carmel Valley Road. The need for widening the highway is recognized generally as being paramount.

If the highway is widened, the "island property" formed by Route 1, Carmel Valley Road and Oliver Road will have to be moved 70 feet to the east. This would probably mean a realignment of Oliver Road and necessitate the sale of some land east of where the island is now located.

The land is owned by the Hatton estate, which has agreed to sell only if Mr. Morris' stated need for a C-1 zone is gratified. It appears that the Hatton interests will not sell unless Mr. Morris is provided with enough C-1 space to build his restaurant.

Those people who want a park installed at the valley's entrance do not want Mr. Morris to have his restaurant. In fact,

Three Paying Guests Ordinance Sparks Plan For "Town Meeting"

Sparked by a group of Carmel residents interested in rescinding the city ordinance which forbids a guest house owner from lodging more than three paying guests in Carmel's residential area, the idea for a Carmel "Town Meeting," at which matters of public concern would be discussed by all citizens, evolved during two weekend meetings at the Carmel Valley home of architect Robert Stanton, Jr., whose father recently stood trial on a charge of violating the ordinance.

A nucleus of about 30 persons - guest house owners, realtors and "interested residents" got together for the purpose of discussing the controversial ordinance. Under the guidance of Noyes McKay, business consultant and engineer, they came away from Saturday and Sunday meetings with the embryo blueprint for a Carmel "Town Meeting," which if plans are carried out, will list as the first item on its agenda public discussion of the guest house ordinance. Those at the meeting were agreed that they want the law rescinded or altered.

The first Town Meeting has been set for Monday at 8 p.m. in the Sunset School cafeteria. Chairman of the committee for arranging the meeting is Ken Smith, realtor, while the committee includes Gladys Johnston, Mrs. Karl Hisgen, Mrs. Nora Law, and Adolph C. Lafrenz.

Mr. McKay "took over" the Saturday meeting when he suggested the town meeting idea as a means for all types of civic affairs to be discussed now and in the future. He said, "It is characteristic that the public only takes an interest in civic matters by occasion."

"The only reason the three paying guests ordinance hasn't caused any trouble before is because it wasn't really enforced before. This is not the only matter that needs public attention," he commented.

Asked that the group think forward to Carmel's future interests, Mr. McKay said the guest house ordinance is an "excellent issue - along with inept decithey do not even want him to have his golf driving range.

But they, and plenty of other people, want Route 1 widened. In fact, members of Carmel Unincorporated went on record vehemently in favor of doing away with traffic hazards at the intersection. "Traffic hazards" were mentioned many times when they objected to possible commercialization of the island and the surrounding property.

If the Hatton estates won't sell, there is of course the possibility that the State of California will merely condemn the island property and buy it for its own use. There would be no question about installing a park because there would no longer be any land on which to build it. If the highway is widened, the island will be practically non-existent. But will that stop commercialization on the C-1 property which lies to the north of the Carmel Valley Road?

Cannot Jack Morris go ahead and install his restaurant 500 feet in from the nearest State road? Zoning is not effective a certain distance from the road. Will he be stopped as a public nuisance as long as he keeps his floodlights pointing up the valley?

Are the Russians able to manufacture atomic bombs? These and many other questions bother us these summer days.

sions as to the routing of traffic and matters of favoritism." He mentioned the recent city insurance policy renewals.

The basis for the town meeting is to provide the city council with a means to gauge what the public wants, he said, adding that such meetings should be constructive rather than merely critical, and should be open to all citizens.

While the group had started to discuss various ways by which they would like the guest house ordinance rescinded or changed, the town meeting plan ended all such speculation. It was decided that the matter should be brought before the public and that any decision should rest with popular sentiment.

Among those who attended the meetings were, aside from the aforementioned, Mrs. Alice L. Crouch, Alan R. Campbell, Delma Craig, Cynthia De Lee, Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Frisbie, Mrs. A.D. Maury, Mrs. William Cross, Mrs. Leon Dassonville, Mrs. K.S. Maryanski, Mrs. Catherine R. Stewart, Mrs. Pencilla Smith, Mrs. James Gregorion, Mrs. Elizabeth Chase and Danna Wentworth.

Others were Mrs. Ralph Stean, Barnet Segal, Edith M. Luttman, R.F. Ohm, Mrs. R.N. Wilson, Mrs. W.E. Clayton, Mrs. L.A. Macaulay, Simon Collins, Mrs. W.W. Sellards, Mrs. Anna Heaton, Mrs. James C. Murphy, Mrs. Ella C. Harris, Mrs. Mary Hathaway, Gordon Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. H.P. Brown.

FBI Chiefs Concerned By
Coplon Trial Disclosures

Now Unsure of Anonymity
Informants May Be Wary

SPECIAL TO THE SPECTATOR

WASHINGTON--FBI officials, from Director J. Edgar Hoover down, are deeply concerned about the impact of the Judith Coplon trial disclosures on the prestige and efficiency of the agency. Aside from the ridicule to which the contents of some of the secret reports has subjected the G-Men, their disclosure may require a complete reshaping of present investigative techniques.

Until Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves ruled that all FBI reports used in the trial must be made public, the bureau was able to offer complete anonymity to its informants.

Federal Judge
Albert L. Reeves

Their identity was generally concealed by code numbers but there are devious ways of tracing them. Now, these informants may think several times before giving information which could subject them to courtroom limelight.

● NEW PROCEDURE?—The Supreme Court's decision reversing the perjury conviction of Milwaukee labor leader Harold Christoffel may bring about some changes in the procedure of congressional committees.

Christoffel was freed on grounds that no quorum of committee members was present when he committed alleged perjury. Court disregarded government claims that a quorum was present when hearing began, but several members had left when he gave the disputed testimony.

Look for committee members to take a little more interest in their hearings. It's a good bet that the committee chairmen will make certain that a majority is present at all times hereafter.

● BRITISH DOLLAR SHORTAGE—In view of Britain's financial situation, United States officials are taking a dim view of the British economic picture. It is felt that Britain, despite the political strain which may be engendered, must take a more realistic view of the world's economy.

The demand for British goods has fallen off heavily in recent months, and it is felt that Britain must produce better goods at more economic prices. The remedy, it is said, is to gear their productive capacity to greater efficiency and induce the labor unions to accept lower wage rates.

● NEW DRAFT?—It seems certain that the Army will start drafting men again by September unless enlistments increase. The draft stopped last January when men were enlisting at the rate of 35,000 a month and the Army was above authorized strength.

Enlistments have dropped considerably since then, and the Army's strength is below required levels. The chief reason is that the war scare has passed and young men who knew they were going to be drafted have stopped enlisting.

● ATOMIC BATTLE PREVIEW—The congressional atomic committee has had a preview of the bitter fight that will come when atomic power can be used generally. It came during a committee protest over a 10 million dollar natural gas pipeline for the Oak Ridge, Tenn., plant.

See Future
Fight Over
Atom Power

Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R), Pennsylvania, said the pipelines would throw Tennessee miners out of work. Committee Chairman Brien McMahon (D), Connecticut, took note of this single problem, and added:

"You can imagine what the hearings will be like when and if the time comes that atomic power is ready for general use. That will be, to say the least, an interesting time for Congress."

The SPECTRE

by Cerf Andsand.

Town Meeting? Town Forum? Does it mean a new council for Carmel? What's behind the two meetings held over the weekend at the Robert Stanton home in Carmel Valley? You can read the details elsewhere in the SPECTATOR.

Mayor Fred Godwin has privately told friends for a long time that he does not intend to run for mayor again. Last week he said the same thing publicly at the Kiwanis meeting. Councilman Allen Knight is also telling friends he won't run again.

The "outs" always want to "in," but the "ins" usually want to stay "in." Maybe the Town Meeting idea is the beginning of a movement for the "outs" to get "in." Our sister cities of Monterey and Pacific Grove have already made the change.

Speaking of changes and three communities, how many of our readers noticed the change in the name of this paper last month? Since we started publishing last fall the name has been the CARMEL SPECTATOR, but look at the masthead now. It's the Carmel, Pebble Beach, Carmel Valley SPECTATOR. Our news, circulation and advertising is now designed to serve this new and logical three community combination.

In Carmel, the SPECTATOR is one of two weeklies, while in Carmel Valley we have entered the newspaper field already occupied by Ed and Barbara Haber's CARMEL VALLEY NEWS and the Cook's PAISANO. But the SPECTATOR is the first and only newspaper to carry the Pebble Beach name. In getting around the Peninsula I talk to all sorts of people. They seem to like the change.

I'll bet the jinx that seems to have been following the dining room at the La Ribera Hotel has been broken. For years it has been difficult to pull customers the one block from Ocean Avenue to Lincoln and Seventh, but times have changed. The new and attractive Louisiana Room is chummy and has atmosphere. It is under the direction of Rayfield Gorum (of Louisiana). His silent partner is Milton Kline of Pacific Grove. I understand our local well known florist, Virginia Nielson, was also instrumental in getting this new

OPENS OFFICE HERE

O.J. Dartsup, who reports he wore glasses for 24 years and "suffered headaches" until he was introduced to the Corbett-Bates method of eye training, has opened offices in Carmel to help other sufferers gain relief.

The method of eye training was originated by Dr. Bates 30 years ago and is taught currently by Margaret Darst Corbett in Los Angeles. Mr. Dartsup said recently that he made the eye training method his life's work after taking the course, which gratified him so thoroughly years ago.

project underway.
I wonder if Bill Bassett misses Carmel.

Glenn Neish, assistant circulation manager for the San Francisco Chronicle, visited Carmel this week with his wife. They spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Vince Barletta. Vince is the local circulation man for the newspaper.

Sascha Brastoff, creator of beautiful ceramic pieces and dinnerware lines, was in Carmel recently to meet the public at Ted Decker's shop on Dolores Street. Mr. Decker handles Sascha's lines here exclusively.

Yaltah Menuhin To Perform Here On August 13

Yaltah Menuhin, pianist, the youngest member of one of the nation's "first families of music," will be heard in Northern California for the first time when she gives her recital with Israel Baker, violinist, in the Sunset School Auditorium here, on Saturday night, August 13, presented by the Denny-Watrous Management.

Enchantingly beautiful, amazingly gifted, this youngest of the Menuhin family was carefully guarded from the concert stage by her parents, who thought that Yehudi Menuhin and Hepzibah, the older sister, were enough artists for one family. Those who heard the young Yaltah privately have told glowing stories of her superb playing, while Pierre Monteux, conductor of the San Francisco Symphony, who has known her since she was a child in Paris, declares himself devoted to her, and she is playing with the San Francisco Symphony in San Jose next season.

Yaltah Menuhin has played extensively in Europe, toured with her brother Yehudi in the East, but remained a mystery in northern California, where she has never before consented to play.

Israel Baker, violinist, has toured with Stokowski, played under Toscanini and many of the great conductors.

Bernstein To Conduct Music Of Stravinsky

Leonard Bernstein will conduct the Boston Symphony Orchestra in a Stravinsky program, for the broadcast of the Berkshire Festival Concert at Tanglewood, Lenox, Mass., Sunday, July 31 (KNBC, 1:05 p.m., PST). This will be the third concert to be broadcast from the Festival by NBC, and the first in the giant music shed, which seats 6,000 listeners and provides space outside for additional thousands.

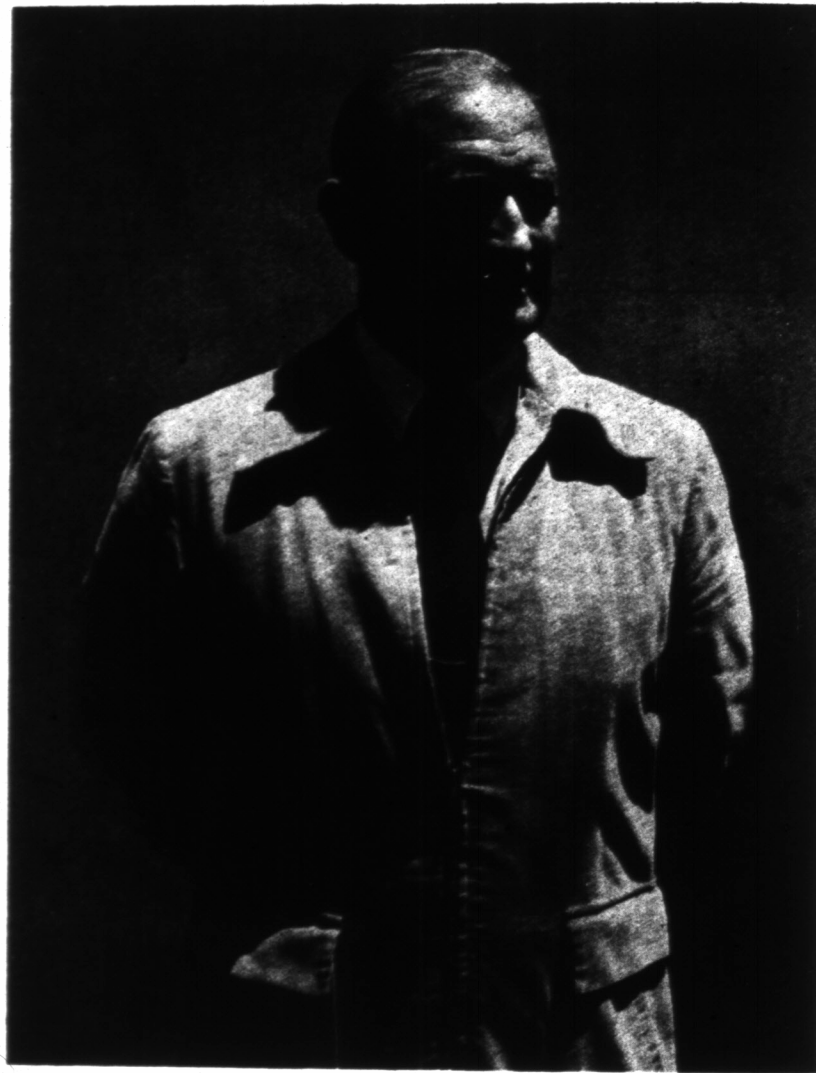

Bernstein is a leading native American conductor-composer and pianist. Only 30 years old, he has carried American musical culture to other countries and also has been recognized in this country from coast to coast. Bernstein is one of the several conductors who was given invaluable stimulus through working and studying at the Berkshire Music Center as a protege of Dr. Serge Koussevitzky.

The program will open with Stravinsky's "Scenes De Ballet." This work, composed in 1944, was first performed under the composer's own direction in February, 1945 by the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra.

The remaining portion of the program will be devoted to the ballet suite "Sacre Du Printemps" (Rite of Spring). When this ballet first was performed in 1913, riots broke out in the theater, because of the unusualness of the music and dancing. Today its chief form of presentation is as music in the concert hall, rather than as a ballet. It has won a secure place in the concert repertoire.

Ben Grauer is narrator of the Berkshire Festival broadcasts.

CREATIVE DANCE Class For Adults

Upon request made to the Adult Education Program of Monterey, classes in rhythmic exercise and creative dance will be held for adults under leadership of Miss Ruth Allerhand, of Carmel, on Wednesdays from 2 to 3 p.m. in the Monterey High School gymnasium and from 3 to 4 p.m. at the Bayview School in New Monterey.

Both classes are free of charge and open to all adults on the peninsula. Miss Allerhand is also planning evening classes for those interested in preliminary training in stage deportment. Interested persons are requested to call Carmel 862-J for more detailed information.

Man Of Many Talents

'The world is so full of a number of things - I think we should all be happy as Kings...' an Englishman wrote those gay, brave words - in California, a long time ago, and another Englishman living in Carmel today, tops the Kings, when it comes to happiness.

Gordon Ridgley Parker, D.D.S., beloved and trusted by most every boy and girl in Carmel who ever had a toothache, (and by their mothers and fathers too) lives a full life, and a merry one!

THE SCULPTOR

His great talent for precision, that puts him in the foremost rank in his practice of dentistry, is, one might say, sublimated as the sun goes down and he turns homeward. Dr. Parker's avocation is sculpturing, and as I viewed the beautiful bronze and plaster busts in his studio the other evening, I realized that it was the exquisite detail in the modelling of the facial contours that made each work a speaking likeness of the subject. It is this precision and delicacy of touch plus artistry that has won for him professional recognition.

A member of the Carmel Art Association, he studied with Margaret Siegrist in Santa Barbara. His one man show at the Ojai Valley Art Center, where he had his own bronze foundry, won wide and complimentary copy from the critics. In the foyer of the Ventura County Hospital is Dr. Parker's bust of the late Dr. A.L. Cagnacci, executed in black stone.

CARMEL CHARACTER

Man of boundless energy and imagination, 'G. Ridgley' is, in the finest sense, a Carmel character, a happy individualist, dentist, sculptor, fisherman and last but surely not least, a host and leader of hide-ho with literally hundreds of friends including professional men, artists and just people ... and that takes in a lot of territory.

Born of English parents who had ventured far from their native heath, Gordon spent most of his boyhood in Santa Rosa. He graduated from the University of California School of Dentistry and started practicing in Ventura.

ALONG CAME JANE

Then along came Jane with her gold red hair and merry eye, and, as the Doctor puts it - he was as good as gone! Jane Edson Parker was born in Washington, D.C. She is a graduate of Dobbs Ferry, New York, and of the Erskine School in Boston, polishing it all off with a year in Vevey, Switzerland where she concentrated on dramatics. Her talent and versatility are known to all Carmel. Director of make-up for the Golden Bough Playhouse, she is an indispensable, so Edward Kuster will tell you.

But to get on with the tale - Jane, the feted young creature of the East, met her fate so she says, at a dancing party in Ojai Valley. "And" she remarked pensively - "Gordon was the only eligible bachelor, so..."

LIVING ROUND ABOUT

With the arrival in Carmel of this talented young pair and their small son Gordon, (that was five years ago) things began to happen. I forgot to tell you - Dr. Parker has another art at his finger tips - he is a chef extraordinary! An invitation to a Parker barbecue is worth its weight in gold - a simply magnificent feasting - to say nothing of the fun. They have lived in the Woods, in the Valley, and at one point they actually camped for three months on the Louis Wolter's estate, and gaily prepared their mouthwatering concoctions on a Coleman stove!

ADVENTURES IN COLOR

Today their shocking pink house in the Rancho Rio Vista subdivision is, what you'd expect - as individual, gay and stimulating as its creators. Actually, there are 16 colors blended and contrasted in the lovely spacious rooms - chartreuse and Canton blue, Chinese red and silver grey. Their courage as decorators was nothing short of colossal, and, amazing but true, the result is delightful, a perfect background for the happy, talented Parkers.

THE STUDIO

And the studio! It is really a sculptor's studio - nothing fancy here. (Except maybe the old player piano for which we'd give a king's ransom, if we had it, and if the Parkers would throw in their precious collection of old music, such as Moonlight Bay and Goodbye My Bluebell - ah-h-h, those were the tunes)...The studio carries all the equipment of a serious sculptor and there we saw the handsome bronze bust of the marine artist, John O'Shea; the beautiful and infinitely appealing head of little Gordon, the exquisitely graceful study of Mrs. Steve Crouch. There are others - at the Carmel Art Association Gallery, and in private collections. Dentist - sculptor - our Gordon Ridgley Parker is a Carmel character of rare talent and versatility, and if you hear his hearty laugh, if you enjoy the famous Parker hospitality, if you see the beauty of his sculptures, you'll agree, I'm sure - in finding happiness - he has topped the Kings that Englishman named Stevenson wrote about.

Social Date Book Jottings

Mr. and Mrs. George Beard of Modesto and Carmel entertained in their lovely home in Carmel Woods on Sunday afternoon in honor of their houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hersh of Los Angeles. Among the guests who enjoyed the cocktails and buffet were: Mr. and Mrs. John M. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Delaney, Mrs. Anthony Marino, Mrs. Laura Chester and her daughter, Miss Carol Chester, Mrs. Camille Hall. Also Miss Beatrice Beard and Dr. and Mrs. Harris Wilson of Modesto.

Richard Waring, organist and concert pianist of Modesto, Mrs. Waring and Mrs. R.L. Yates, were guests of Miss Charlotte Morton for the last two days of the Bach Festival.

Scott Douglass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Douglass of Carmel, is now visiting here for the duration of the shipping strike in Honolulu. Scott, who is the chief radio operator on the liner Lurline, flew home this week for this much welcomed visit with his parents and friends here in Carmel. As soon as the strike is over, Scott will return to Hawaii and start his regular runs between the United States and the islands.

Miss Becky Bell, who is to be married to Johnny Westover at the Church of the Wayfarer on August 14, was honored by her friends at two linen showers this week.

On Sunday, Becky and her friends gathered at the home of Marlene Becar where Carol Bedau and Marlene were hostesses for the afternoon. After opening many beautiful gifts which included towels, tablecloths, luncheon sets, and many other useful items, Becky cut a beautiful cake which had been made for the occasion. The cake was decorated with roses and hearts carrying Becky's name and that of her fiancé.

Those who were invited to join in the afternoon of fun were Betty Plaxton, who is to be one of the bridesmaids, Peggy Riker, the other bridesmaid, Jan Mastin, the maid of honor, Kathie von Meier, Beverly Dowgaillo, Sue Moore, Joan McGrath, Roberta Roberts, Wanda Warren, Shirlee Petty, Jeannine Viljoen, and the hostesses, Carol Bedau and Marlene Becar.

On Tuesday evening, more girls met at the home of Kathie von Meier to honor Becky at another linen shower. The girls sat before a blazing fire as Becky opened more lovely presents for the house which she and her fiancé are building in Monte Vista Park. The group then feasted on cake, snacks, and coffee before ending the evening of entertainment.

Among those who attended were Joan McGrath, Peggy Riker, Betty Plaxton, Jan Mastin, Barbara Teschke, Louise Harber, Carol Bedau, Mary Lodmell, Sheila O'Brien, Becky, and the hostess, Kathie von Meier.

Miss Diane Thorn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.E. Thorne, entertained at luncheon yesterday in honor of Miss Bonnie Lynne Redhead, the occasion was a surprise and it was Bonnie Lynne's 12th birthday. The young guests included: Misses Phyllis Brunette, Lucy Elstob, Jeannie Fortessa, Cynthia Blum, Sara McCloud, Sondra Soule, Georgie Rawlings, Denise Westcott, Lynn McMath, Julia Work, Sally Spurr, Patsy Ricketts. The hostess and the guest of honor bringing the list to fifteen. The color motif of the luncheon table was pink and white. Furiously enthusiastic ping pong games were featured during the afternoon.

Saturday, July 30th means a sale by the American Women's Volunteer Service at the Thrift Shop at 707 Del Monte Ave. There will be a five cent table and lots of fun. Don't miss it. Hours 11 to 4.

From August 1st to 7th, inclusive, the shop will be closed for renovations.

Sponsored by the organizers of "Peninsula Pets," Miss Shane Ryan and Miss Bess Prewett, the card party given in the Carmel Women's Club last week was a social and financial success.

Functioning as hostesses were:

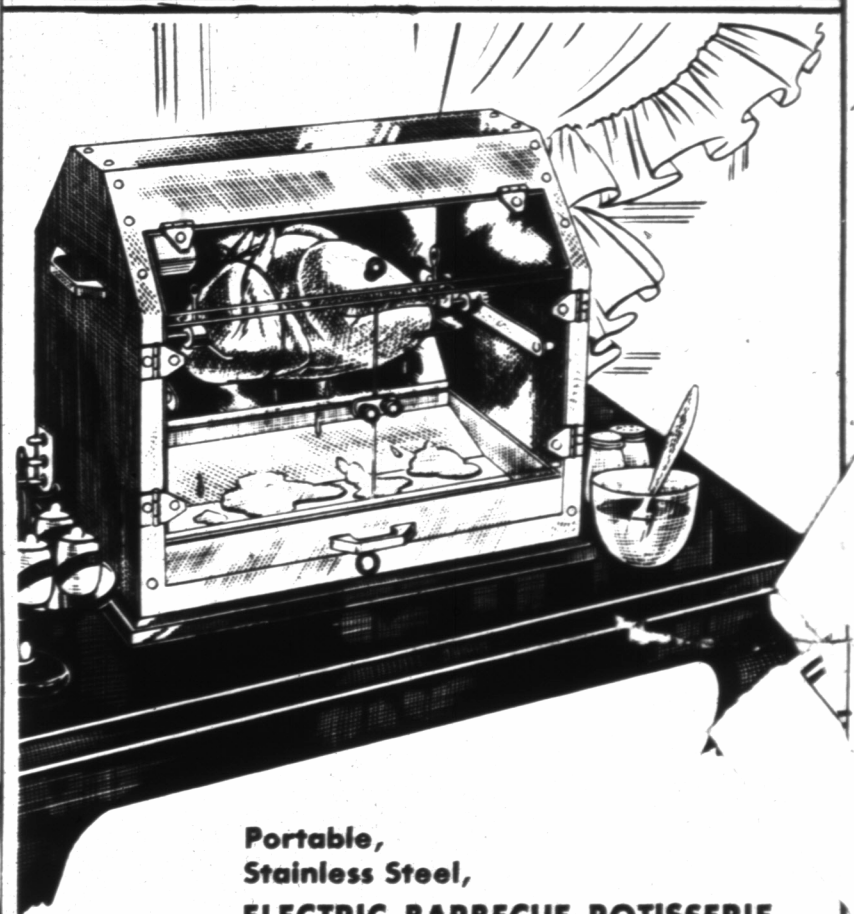

Mrs. Thomas C. Greene, Miss Agnes Shand and Miss Harriet Staver. They were assisted by Mrs. Ella C. Harris and Mrs. Marie Murphy who served tea, coffee and home-made cookies. Miss Gretchen Herron assisted at the door and in serving with Ruth Harrington, Betty Carpenter and Marie Ellen Marshall.

Many gifts donated to "Peninsula Pets" were auctioned by Mrs. A. Gordon Bagley. These included home-made cakes and gifts. A bride doll made by Mrs. Nelson H. French, of Pacific Grove, was awarded to Mrs. C. Powell.

Those who donated food and articles for the auction were: Mrs. Nelson French, Mrs. George Seidenneck, Kay Rodgers, Alf Neilsen, Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. W.H. Hammond, Mrs. John Rey, Mrs. Ada McEvoy and Mrs. Noel Arnold. Floral decorations were furnished by Alf Neilsen and Mrs. Virginia Neilsen.

Among the guests at Hot Springs Lodge, Big Sur are: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holscher of N. Hollywood (He is Art Director of Columbia Studios). Mr. Henry Kersh of Carmel; Mr. A.E. Miller of Monterey; Mr. and Mrs. G.A. Patterson and daughter Julie of Costa Madera.

Doin's An' Stuff

JANET BUCHANAN ARNOLD

The Teenagers have made big plans for their dance to-night at The Carmel Valley Inn. They will have a good orchestra, entertainment and a late supper. We should all encourage them in this their first large scale community effort. Occupied, happy teenagers have a better than average chance of becoming occupied, happy adults.

The Valley has been bulging with visitors to the resorts and guests of the valley residents. Sat was a big day and night at the new Rancho Del Monte Country Club. The following persons were only a few of those present: The Louis Moores, R. Levernittis, Commander and Mrs. Charles Blenman, R. Tices, Tom Elstons, Mrs. Donovan, the Cummings family, the M.N. Leohis, David Princes, Paul Daums, W. Funkes, and R. Steens. Mrs. Jack Parsone and Tom Henry celebrated a joint birthday. The bar functions now and there's usually a bridge game in the corner.

Open House at John Arthurs' Oriental Arts and Crafts Shop drew some 50 people Sunday afternoon. Hot spiced saki and delicious h'or doeuvres were enjoyed by his guests. John is the boy to mend those oriental rugs you've been meaning to get fixed for years.

Larry and Mary Ann Sweeney have a new member of the family James Harrington, who arrived Saturday via the Peninsula Community Hospital.

Clarence Castro and family just returned from a month and a half trip of the northwest.

The Riding Club meets to-night at Holmans Guest Ranch. The committee met Tuesday to plan details for a roping contest to be held this Sunday or next at the corral at Holmans Ranch. Call Holmans for definite information. There's money in the pot for each contest and it's almost as exciting for the spectators as it is for the participants.

The Riding Club got a prelude of the new Horse Troth Flicker room at Holmans seeing some specially ordered horse films. The room is very Victorian in mood and provides the proper atmosphere for all the old films which will be revived there. The big public opening is slated for the first week in August with The Son of that old Sheik still wooing the females.

Martha Wilson is spending the rest of her vacation in the valley with her mother Joan Wilson.

Having seen one community not too dissimilar to the valley develop in Long Island it has been interesting to watch the valley unfold and to surmise on its future growth. Someday we will have a professional building of our own to house a doctor and dentist and perhaps even a simple nursing home where the many valley babies can make their first public appearance. Carmel, Monterey and Salinas take care of themselves why can't we? We do have an ambulance and a volunteer First Aid Group plus equipment to take care of emergencies, accidents and illnesses for which we are properly grateful.

Scoop of the week, thanks to a friendly rival is the good news that Dee Sherman and Peggy Wagner plan to marry Aug. 8 in Mexico. They will return shortly.

(Editor's Note: Congratulations)

Marian Pike of Los Angeles is visiting her cousin, Charles Harper, president of the Business and Professional Association.

This scene from Inspiration Point at Holman's Guest Ranch is one that visitors see every day. Standing on the rock in the foreground one looks out over the Carmel Valley. Robles del Rio is out of sight below foothills in foreground.

Sixty members of the Valley Business and Professional Association and their guests enjoyed luscious steaks at their party at The Lodge last week. Entertainment was provided by Herb Jensen and Jim Hadley who played and sang familiar ditties. Listing cast names only the members present were Brownell, Call, Chambers, Ekert, Smith, Haber, Harper, Buchanan-Arnold, Holman, Henry, Johnston, Lombard, Marshall, Moore, Sherman, J. Smith, Rose, O. and H. Tanous, Wheland, Zumwaldt, Caldwell and Ford.

Mr. Tirey Ford is making plans to enlarge the airstrip in the valley, thus enabling commercial lines to come in on a charter basis with visitors from San Francisco and other populous areas. Robert Sanchez is building a house on the fringe of the airport and will be on duty servicing the planes and welcoming the people. The building will be done this winter and the strip should be operating next summer.

Weekly report on the progress of our new road. Mr. J. Hayes in Mr. Cozzens office has offered the good news that he has secured four consents of rights of way and is dickering with seven more persons. Vacations, price arguments, etc. slow up these due processes of law, but it is encouraging to know that Mr. Hayes has accomplished what he has. It is a difficult task and involves far more "red tape" than most of us realize. We are assured of having a new road next winter so lets relax and enjoy the picturesque views which are available to those who dare to lift their eyes while making the tortuous curves

"GUIDE DOGS" to tour valley homes.

The Monterey Peninsula Branch of Guide Dogs for the Blind will tour various Carmel Valley homes and gardens on Wednesday, Aug. 10. The Rancho Del Monte Country Club will serve a buffet luncheon for those who wish to take the tour and members will meet the president and several officers of the organization who will describe the work of the school in San Francisco. There will also be a demonstration by a guide dog and his owner.

Among those who have opened their homes for the tour are Noel Sullivan, Hollow Hills Farm; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton, Jr., whose home was recently featured in "House Beautiful"; Mr. and Mrs. Edison Holt, at their ranch near the Farm Center; Mr. and Mrs. G. Sanborn Griffin, who recently finished construction of their house, Mr. Ellis Speigl, new owner of the Wolferman Ranch, above Robles del Rio.

Tickets for the tour will be available after Aug. 1 at local hotels.

Employment Slump To Continue

Little or no change occurred during the month in the employment of private industries in the Monterey local office area, according to the State Department of Employment. A layoff of approximately 350 government employees, however, added to the number of persons seeking work in the area.

No large gains in employment are anticipated until the opening of the canneries for the regular sardine season on August 2. Availability of fish and the market demand for fish products will limit activities in these industries. Assurance that the season will open on time cannot be given at present because of the necessity for working out price agreements prior to the start of actual packing operations. The resort season is under way and employment in establishments serving the tourist trade is up to expectations.

Unemployment is expected to continue at its present level during the balance of July and only if fishing and canning industries commence August 2 will there be any noticeable decrease in the number of unemployed. Claimants for unemployment insurance and readjustment allowances increased slightly from an average of 2,322 per week in May to 2,513 in June.

Job openings in hotels, laundries, and eating establishments compare favorably with previous tourist seasons. The demand from the building construction industries, canning, fishing and related industries has continued in the slump which began in January.

REGISTRATION DATES SET

The schedule of registration for kindergarten children and for new students throughout the Monterey Public School system is as follows:

Sept. 1 - All Elementary schools except Thomas O. Larkin.
Sept. 2 - All elementary Schools except Oak Grove School.
Sept. 9 - Monterey Union High School.
Sept. 9-10 - Monterey Peninsula College.
Registrations will be accepted on these dates between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

RUMMAGE SALE

I vow and swear,
And tear my hair
At this and that's 'round the house
Then take a stroll
And land right where
Is lodged the source of my despair,
And blithely start to browse, For
I love a Rummage Sale!
Indeed, it's quite the thrilling sport
To scurry 'round from pot to dish;
To ponder over two gold-fish,
To grab a thing-a-bob, quick!
Swish!
"Scuse me!" - I glare at some poor soul,
And smugly clutch my prize, the fish,
The thing-a-bob, I sigh, and dish?
'Tis quaint? - I buy! Yes sir, I'm sunk,
Whenever someone else's junk
is all spread out, I have no spunk;
I love a Rummage Sale!

Adeline Hewitt

The above poem may not suggest your true sentiments on Rummage Sales but you will find some very nice buys at the La Estrella Circle Rummage Sale at the Carmel Girl Scout House. This annual sale of the Circle, which is part of the Monterey Eastern Star, is even bigger and better this year. Tomorrow is the last day of this three day event at the Carmel Girl Scout House.

'good old days'?

"Ever hear about the 'good old days'? Well, you'll hear a lot more during the Monterey County Fair," Vernon Hurd, Director, announced today.

"We've been working on a theme that would fit in with the Centennial idea, and we think we've got it," he continued. "At least, we'd like to hear from all the old-timers in the neighborhood. We're going to give them a field day at the fair, in fact four field days, August 27-30. There'll be free admission and other treats in store for those nearest the Centennial mark."

Mr. Hurd was especially happy when he talked about the Semi-Centennial review of ancient automobiles which Alton Walker has promised to put on, and the fact that Mr. Walker would give free rides to these old-timers in one of the 25 relics of the "good old days." Just which one it will be, Mr. Walker hasn't decided. If there are a number of old-timers, he'll probably pile them into the huge 1909 Pierce Arrow touring car.

Since the Monterey County Fair covers the five counties of Santa Cruz, Santa Clara, San Benito, San Luis Obispo and Monterey, there should be a good response from near-centennarians. All those over 90 are requested to forward their names, addresses and ages to the fair office, P.O. Box 1151, Monterey, California.

Exhibitors are also being asked to carry out the good old days theme with display of old prints, flags, newspapers, musical instruments, farm implements, etc., that date back to 1849. "We hope to mark off this Centennial year with a real celebration at the Monterey County Fair," Mr. Hurd concluded.

Whether it's Main Street or Broadway, whether it's a housewife, teenager or show-girl - everyone wants to get into the act - of the Nation-wide Crochet Contest, that is. In New York we surprised two of Billy Rose's famous "long-stemmed beauties," two stars of his "Diamond Horseshow," putting finishing touches to their crochet entries - a beautiful tablecloth and a delicate runner. They feel there's no business like show business - but also there's nothing like the Contest - to win $500. in cash and a free trip to Chicago. For information on how to enter the contest, contact the Monterey County Fair, P.O. Box 1151, Monterey, California.

YOUR HOSTS

Bill White, left, and Ken Harbaugh were introduced to each other following the war by their wives and went into business as co-managers of the Mission Ranch three years ago. The chicken and prime ribs they serve in the dining room has been recommended by Duncan lines for the years 1947, 1948 and 1949. Both gentlemen are down-easters - Mr. White from Boston and Mr. Harbaugh from New York - but they believe in serving up informality along with good food. Community singing and hobby horse races (I Faw Down and Go Boom) are the two most well-received forms of entertainment at the ranch. Mr. White and Mr. Harbaugh, with their wives, live at the ranch, which many people may be surprised to learn has complete housekeeping units capable of handling 45 to 50 guests. They handle private parties in the large banquet hall, and either one of them, or both may be seen any night you go out to the Ranch.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF

A suggestion by Wesley W. Kergan, attorney, to extend Carmel's commercial zone into a "twilight zone," presumably for allowing guest houses in the fringe area to take in more than three paying guests, was postponed by the Carmel Planning Commission last week to await the return of commissioner Donald Craig, who will be on vacation until October. Mr. Kergan said he wished to wait until all members of the planning commission are present. P.A. McCreery, chairman of the commission, said creation of a "twilight zone" would involve amending of the zoning laws.

Barnet J. Segal, of the Carmel Building and Loan Association, is currently attending the Eighth Stanford Business Conference at Palo Alto. The weeklong conference is sponsored by the Graduate School of Business of Stanford University.

On Tuesday, Aug. 2 at the Cafeteria Room of the Sunset School at 8 p.m. there will be try-outs for Mr. Van Houtte's Centennial Play "The Rose of California" to be given at the Forest Theatre in the early part of September. Besides the need for those actors and actresses to play parts there is also a need for Spanish Dancers, stagehands, wardrobe mistresses, scenery artists, sound effects-man and about 10 or 15 extras for a mob scene.

Want to have a housekeeping apartment in a lovely atmosphere close to the beach? The MONTE VERDE APARTMENTS, on Ocean and Monte Verde is your answer. Here you'll find lovely rooms which overlook gardens that add even more to the beauty and quiet simplicity of the apartments. Enjoy Carmel and Carmel living at the MONTE VERDE APARTMENTS.

Here is a new clean way to clean...its with Miracloth, a new product which you will find at the DOLORES GROCERY on Dolores between Ocean and Seventh. Miracloth is a perfect chamois-like material which can be used over and over again, and its lint-free surface is ideal for polishing and cleansing any surface. Now here is a wonderful offer for you, if you clip this column out of the SPECTATOR and take in to the DOLORES GROCERY, you will receive a 15¢ sample of this new cloth absolutely free. Take advantage of this offer between today, July 28 and next Thursday, August 4.

Oldtimers, newcomers, and visitors, you'll still find KRAMER'S BEAUTY SALON at the same location as KRAMER'S accessory shop, next to the library. You can walk right through the accessory shop to KRAMER'S BEAUTY SALON, famous for lovely permanents.

In the accessory shop you will find some of the most unusual things on the peninsula, including hand painted skirts and smocks of bright indian head, ceramic jewelry from the Monterey wharf, and sandals of all kinds and colors.

You'll find these lovely things and more at KRAMER'S - at the same location as KRAMER'S BEAUTY SHOP.

Nell Fulton calls them "conveniences," and there couldn't be a more perfect description for the handy little coin holders being featured at the LITTLE LEATHER SHOP on Dolores and Seventh. These attractive holders can easily double as a lapel pin or a clip for your bag, and can be matched by a key holder, a detachable glove holder, or a wonderful strap holder for a shoulder bag.

While we're mentioning bags, remember that the LITTLE LEATHER SHOP always features Ganson of California Saddle Leather bags, for all occasions and beautiful Renoir copper jewelry. All of these fine things are found on Dolores at the LITTLE LEATHER SHOP.

When you are in Carmel, you'll want to stay close to the bus depot, the Carmel shops, the Carmel eating places and the city tennis courts; so, the McPHILLIPS HOTEL is the perfect cool and quiet place. At the McPHILLIPS HOTEL you will be served with fine and conscientious assurance which stems from its long establishment in Carmel.

Among the books on sale at the "sign of the griffin," the VILLAGE BOOK SHOP, are some cook books, some garden books, and many children's stories. Visit the VILLAGE BOOK SHOP next Monday for the Summer Sale in the back of the shop.

Personalities Behind The Programs

FORD WARNER OF KMBY

Ford Warner has been a familiar figure in Monterey radio and civic activities for the past five years. Although born in New Jersey, he moved to Canada when 7 years old. Ford, always interested in radio, started eleven years ago at CKMO in Vancouver, B.C. He was working at CFAR, Flynn Flon, Manitoba, near the Arctic Circle, when the news came that the Japs had bombed Pearl Harbor. He immediately gave notice to the station and left for the United States. That was the first time he had returned since his seventh year. He continued with radio in San Diego until he received a cordial invitation to join the Armed services. Following his discharge he was associated with KFKC in Visalia, California. In October of 1944 he made the Monterey Peninsula his home, bringing with him his wife, Eileen, a well known theatre and radio organist, and their young son. Ford joined the staff of KMBY shortly after the station went on the air. He is Commercial Manager and director of local news for Monterey's only radio station.

Your CONGRESSMAN REPORTS

Ernest K. Bramblett, M.C.

If anybody started out to write a radio script about life in Washington, instead of taking the soap box opera theme, "Life Can Be Beautiful," he should title it, "Life Can Be Complicated."

I thought I knew all about how affairs can get snarled up in Federal red tape, but my education goes on daily. Here's my latest discovery!

Back in 1929 the State of California, wanting to preserve our historical priceless Spanish-Mexican Land Grant documents, sent them to Washington for a restoration job. The Archivist of the United States does an excellent job of restoring old papers and it was a wise move. But now that they have been restored, what do you think has happened.

The Archivist says we have to have an Act of Congress to get them back in our State Capitol in Sacramento. As far as I know he is perfectly willing to send them back, but Congress has to give its consent. So, in order to get these valuable papers back we will have to go through a Committee meeting on the House side, get action on the House Floor, take the bill through a Senate Committee and the Senate itself. Then, of course, it has to go to the President to be signed.

After all that motion I hope the Supreme Court doesn't hold our bill unconstitutional for some reason or another!

It seems a pretty complicated procedure to get back for California what is rightfully her's. The case points up to me, very emphatically, how we should jealously preserve our individual state rights. If Washington won't surrender historical papers, what do you think would be the case if we gave up our freedom of action in favor of a regimented economy? Unlike the land grant documents, we never would get them back.

The Republican Party needs and, I am sure, will get an outstanding man to head the Party organization. Whether you are a Democrat or a Republican I think you will agree on the necessity of an aggressive two party system in our government.

The majority party must furnish the leadership to carry out the wishes of the people. The function of the minority party is not to blindly oppose every proposal made by the majority, but rather to give constructive criticism. It also has the duty of vigorously opposing legislation when the majority gets off base, so to speak, and attempts to impose programs which do not represent the will of the people. There is a place, of course, where partisanship of any kind must end. For instance on matters affecting California, our Delegation, with few exceptions, works for the general welfare of the State without any regard to the labels Democrat or Republican.

The adjournment of Congress for the summer is something what Mark Twain said about the weather. Everybody is talking about it, but nobody is doing anything about it.

A long range guess is that we will be here until Labor Day and there are rumors President Truman will call a special session in the fall to try and push through his "fair deal" program.

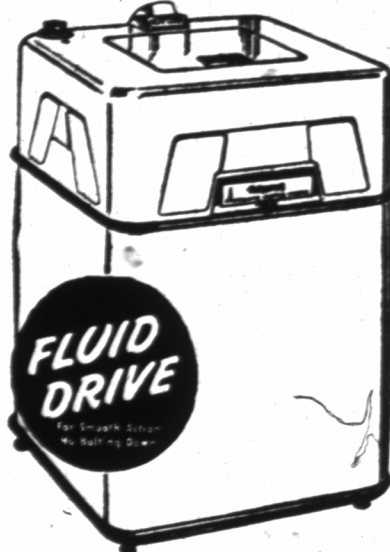

He has been having a difficult time selling that program to his own majority party. He had to exert every possible pressure to get through his public housing legislation because a great many members of his own party were of the same opinion as myself that it was dangerous business for the government to invade the housing field.

NICK LOVELACE

The Bach Festival in Carmel for the twelfth time is a pleasurable memory for it's music and singing. To me in addition, it will be a memory of several little parties given by friends for friends here for the occasion. The festive week gave me the opportunity to meet another male cooking columnist (if I may be so bold). A week ago last night, George Saunders and Betty had a party for 10 at their lovely beach home. This is the famous house which has been written up in national magazines because of it's unique placement of the rooms in such a setting. George, a widower, built it when his daughter, Betty, was living in Europe. Living the life of Riley in single blissfulness, he arranged that the kitchen faced the blue Pacific. Standing before the stove you look right through a large plate glass window in the direction of China. Saunders, who spends a good part of his time in his kitchen trying out dishes to feature in his syndicated column, claims he got the idea for the kitchen location from talking to Mansfield Turney, his favorite butcher. Turney has his meat case so arranged at the Carmel Drive In market that he can look at the ocean while he works. He was heard to say that he would rather look at the horizon than wait on customers. (Editor's note: Don't you believe it!).

George Saunders started thinking that if a butcher could get away with a theory like that why shouldn't he, especially when he was fortunate to be able to do his work at home. So the kitchen is one of the most beautiful I have ever seen. My wife will never be satisfied until she has a home with the kitchen in the best position. She has something, I think.

But this column is supposed to feature a recipe and what better than the one prepared by our host that night. It was enjoyed by all. Why not try it soon yourself?

CHICKEN, RHEIMS

For four you will need:
1 large, tender chicken cut in six pieces.

Butter

1 shallot
1 clove of garlic
1 cup light port
1 cup dry white wine
1 glass of brandy
1 liqueur glass of Cherry brandy.
1 cup heavy cream
2 egg yolks

Brown the chicken in the butter with the shallot and garlic. Add the port, white wine, brandy and cherry brandy. Bring to a boil, light with a match, and shake the pan until the flame dies down. Simmer the sauce until about one-half is left. When chicken is done, remove to platter. Add to the sauce the cream and egg yolks. Do not boil, but cook slowly until it thickens. Pour over the chicken and serve immediately.

Centennial Queen To Reign At County Fair

"Miss 49'er", queen of the Monterey Centennial, August 29-September 5, will also reign at the opening of the Monterey County Fair, August 27-30. Commemorating the signing of the State Constitution at California's first capitol, in famous old Colton Hall, the Centennial and the Fair will join in welcoming visitors to beautiful Monterey Peninsula.

In line with the Centennial idea, the Monterey County Fair will honor all those over 90, who are near the Centennial mark, with free admission and free rides. The old-timers will have a chance to ride in one of the ancient autos from Alton Walker's collection, which will be on display. His Semi-Centennial review includes 25 models dating back just before the turn of the century.

The "good old days" will be remembered in many exhibits, with old farm machinery, household equipment, stamps, prints and other souvenirs of the past. These will accent the progress in California's history, as exemplified by other exhibits.

The old and the new will be combined in a Centennial Celebration which will sing out this year's "Come to the Fair" theme.

Horse Show Tickets Now On Sale

The boxes for the Monterey County Horse Show, August 27-30, went on public sale last Friday. This year the Fair dates are a month early, to coincide with the Monterey Constitutional Convention Centennial Celebration, August 29-September 5. People wishing boxes are requested to contact Wilma Campbell, 656 Munras, Monterey, or the Monterey County Fair, P.O. Box 1151, Monterey, telephone 5195. Boxes will not be held unless reserved immediately, and no one will be given preference, with reservations made as they are received.

Due to the increased number of visitors expected on the peninsula, this year's Horse Show offers eight performances, with four matinee and four evening shows.

James Glaser, chairman of the Horse Show, has received many outstanding entries already and promises more exciting events than ever before. Additional classes such as calf riding and stake quadrangle races will offer contrast to the more formal features of the show. By popular demand, the polo pony versus stock horse competition is again included on the program this year.

A centipede may have more legs than are displayed by this precision chorus at the California State Fair's Night Show, but they are hardly as shapely everyone, with the possible exception of another centipede, will agree.

KEY TO THE COVER...

Debutante Kathleen Neil, of Carmel, shows the correct way to mow the lawn during the middle of a sunny Carmel Valley day. She may not cut much grass this way, but she stands still long enough to be photographed anyway.

Pebble Beach Personalities

Scheduled for next Friday evening is a dinner party the Robert Stantons are planning to honor Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Walker (Nancy Morse) who are out from New York for an extended stay with her father, Samuel F.D. Morse and Mrs. Morse at "River Ranch" in the Carmel Valley; and Colonel and Mrs. Allen Griffin, who have only recently returned to their Pebble Beach home from China where Colonel Griffin was deputy chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration Mission to China.

Colonel and Mrs. Ralph H. Stoddard (Elizabeth Walker) who make their home at "Three Oaks Ranch" Dunlap, California, have been guests at "River Ranch" — the Samuel F.D. Morse summer home in the Carmel Valley, where Mrs. Stoddard's brother and sister-in-law, the Kenneth S. Walkers are spending the summer. Incidentally, Mr. Walker has been hospitalized during most of his stay but is now recuperating and well on the road to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent H. Parrot have as their house guests this week Mrs. Nathaniel H. Drush and Mr. Dudley D.F. Digelow, both of Montecito. The Robert Stantons honored the group with a buffet dinner Friday night, the Parrots entertained for their guests Saturday evening and Sunday the group were honored at a luncheon at the Beach Club.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Slater of New York and Santa Barbara stopped off on the Monterey Peninsula only briefly this week. The Lloyd Tevises gave a small dinner in their honor Monday evening.

The deepest known place in the North Pacific Ocean, "Emden Depth," is 35,400 feet, about 45 miles northeast of Mindanao, Philippine Islands.

To Portray Serra

Noel Sullivan, of Carmel, will play the part of Father Junipero Serra in the Monterey Constitutional Convention Centennial Celebration pageant, according to Frank Lloyd, producer.

Dan Tothoroh, director, expressed his satisfaction at having Mr. Sullivan in the pageant and said there is still a need for more men in the cast of the giant spectacle.

RADIO NOTES

"Voices and Events," an NBC news program presenting voices and sounds from selected news stories of the week, is now being heard over KNBC at 4:00 p.m., PST, on Sundays.

The weekly half-hour program, originating in New York reviews the news events with James Fleming of the NBC News and Special Events staff in the role of editor in chief.

Voices are recorded while the news is being made. Since the recordings for the program are made on the spot, colorful background sounds will frequently be heard. Commentators heard from time to time on the program include H.V. Kaltenborn, Morgan Beatty, Robert McCormick, Richard Harkness, Leif Eid, W.W. Chaplin, George Hicks, Elmer Peterson, John Cameron Swayze, Leon Pearson and Robert Trout, all in the United States.

Also heard are NBC newsmen overseas, including Henry Cassidy and Paul Archinard in Paris, Merrill Mueller in London, Ed Haaker in Berlin, Jack DeGon in Rome and George T. Folster in Tokyo.
